

Running head: Allegation judgements in religious settings

Psychological Factors Influencing Religious Congregation Members' Reporting of Alleged Sexual Abuse

Craig A. Harper^{1*}, Colin Perkins², & Debbie Johnson³

¹ Department of Psychology, Nottingham Trent University, UK

² Diocese of Chichester, Church of England, UK

³ Diocese of Lincoln, Church of England, UK

* Corresponding author

Department of Psychology, Nottingham Trent University, 50 Shakespeare Street,

Nottingham, NG1 4FQ, UK. Tel: Email:

Funding Statement and Conflict of Interest

This research was supported by a small grant from the Church of England. The funders played no role in study design, data analysis, interpretation, or the decision to publish this research. Two of the authors (CP and DJ) are employed by the funding organisation as safeguarding practitioners.

This paper has been accepted for publication in

Journal of Sexual Aggression

You can find the final version of the record at <https://doi.org/10.1080/13552600.2019.1599453>.