

The triplets were at the local park playing, and they started to get weird texts, saying sorry about your brother, we're going to miss him, rip poor Breck. They didn't know what to make of it. They hadn't had phones that long. Breck's sister went home, and police were there, asking her where her brother was, she said at his schoolfriend's house. They asked her to get her siblings and parent's home.

Because the news went viral on social media, all of the children knew that Breck was dead before any parent, police or adult. LD went online and told Breck's schoolfriend a version of what happened, who then told other gamers, schoolfriends, siblings, it went viral, saying that it was some horrible accident, and the younger boys who had also been groomed believed that up until LD changed his pleas to guilty on the second day of trial. LD tried to say that Breck had been violent, which he never was, then that Breck tried to commit suicide because I was such a horrible mother, then I was told at one point he was blaming terrorists who burst through the door and made him do it. He was a psychopathic liar who was grooming boys all over the country by befriending them through gaming.

A woman asked me if I would like a healing treatment for my birthday, I had no idea how much I was about to need healing. I then got a message from their dad saying he was mad at Breck for not coming home at ten to babysit the triplets as he had to go to work in London, couldn't get hold of him as his phone was dead and didn't know what to do. I started phoning around to his friends from school asking them where he was. They said he was with his schoolfriend, who was with his parents, on holiday. I felt like we were going in circles. Someone then said he was really unwell, really unwell, and they sounded weird. I demanded, where is he, and they said, he's with LD, and my heart sank as this is who I was trying to protect him from.

The next call I got was the worst call any parent could get, from Breck's father, who said, I don't know how to tell you this, but LD has murdered Breck. I fell to the floor and could not stop screaming, this was what I tried so hard to prevent, I felt LD was a paedophile, but I never expected him to be a murderer as well. I had to be sedated. My boyfriend made the arrangements to return home.

LD had been sending photos of Syrian beheadings to boys all over the country, no one did anything. In the end, he wanted to do his own copycat Syrian beheading, which he did with poor Breck. The gaming/school friends all joked that LD was a 'paedo, but they didn't know what to do about it, they all thought someone else's parents knew, which
