Dear Amy,

Both me and my colleague Shelley have children at home and would be unable to be core participants in a virtual inquiry. We are already struggling to juggle work and childcare/homeschooling, but both feel it would be impossible to be part of the inquiry whilst responsible for our children. If the inquiry goes ahead we will do our best to give evidence, but it is very difficult within our individual circumstances to guarantee uninterrupted time.

Regards,

Becca Fetterman
