

He has not come to terms with his past and has resisted any form of therapeutic help when suggested.

Sensitive/Irrelevant

Sensitive/Irrelevant

Mr C's offence

Bernadette Khan stated that when she questioned Mr C in respect of his conviction for sexual assault, for which he got a two year probation order later reduced to one year, he described the event as just larking about in the showers after a game of rugby where he pulled somebody's testicles. When challenged with the police report stating that the incident took place in a bedroom, he replied that police records were not always complete. He was dismissive about the event and described it as part of adolescence.

Both Mrs C and the referees were unaware of the true facts about his conviction. Mr C expressed the opinion that this offence was not uncommon in Residential Home today.

Mrs C

Sensitive/Irrelevant

Sensitive/Irrelevant

Sensitive/Irrelevant

Sensitive/Irrelevant

Mr and Mrs C

Sensitive/Irrelevant

Sensitive/Irrelevant

The only close friend of the couple is Mrs O'B who was previously an officer in charge at a Lambeth children's home where Mr C was the deputy but now she runs a private children's home. She seems to play a powerful and important role in the lives of this couples personal and professional lives, whom she counsels/supports on a regular basis.