Hi Martin

Apologies for the delay in responding. I have been through to everyone. I am afraid we do not collect from local authorities any information on referrals made to local authority children's social care services, across all types of abuse and neglect as you request.

I have mentioned that we do have some data where it comes from CP registers, but you have already said this is insufficient.

I have asked the NISB to see if they analyse any referrals. If they have I will ask them to send it to me or direct to you.

In these extraordinary times and uncharted territory, I hope you, your family and friends are safe and well.
