Dear Ian

I am aware of this. Ask Linda to show you the recent correspondence from Chris Smith and my reply to CS asking if I cld forward to Philip. It sounds like too many fingers in pie! Also that John Rees and Chris Smith may be unaware of the basis on which dioceses were asked to commission independent reviews. Making reports public was never envisaged, as I understand it. That must be right, though it does leave a serious gap as far as helping victims come to terms not only with their abuse but also how their cases were handled. I am not now going to DPA until midday tomorrow. Cld we discuss in the morning?
