

There were a group of strong personalities on the general staff. Because of the bad relationships there was a Byzantine web - it would be difficult to know why changes couldn't be effected.

It was a self-fulfilling prophecy of subversion. It is numerous anecdotes which give indicators of sabotage of attempts to improve medical.

B. was in a difficult situation as acting head. The previous head was always on site still in the flat. This added to confusion + subversion.

B.A.'s leadership style was not towards direction. He was wrong he hadn't realized the distortion in relationships + disordered relationships. With hindsight had B.A. been more directive things could have changed. People would go off site if they didn't want to do things.

Kid's appeared to be incidental.

Andy found was a key figure.
