Dear Mrs Cavanagh,

I have received a reply from Mr Lawley concerning the problems we had in December with Mr Rod Hilton, recommending that an injunction should only be taken out if there is a present threat.

The difficulty now is that Mr Hilton still visits the area of Bamford and is often seen outside the school at the bus stop. He will always be attracted to the school for a number of reasons and I feel it is unacceptable to wait until he becomes a threat before taking any positive action.

I would welcome discussing this problem with the relevant agencies so we may be pro-active and not just hope that the problem will go away.

Yours sincerely

S.W. Bradshaw B.A.
