Heath later appeared on Savile's BBC TV show Jim'll Fix It when it was one of the nation's favourites.

We can also reveal that Heath, under investigation by seven police forces over child abuse claims, was present at more than half a dozen Westminster meetings of the notorious Paedophile Information Exchange.

The perverted group was formed to persuade politicians to lower the age of sexual consent to only ten.

The revelations raise fresh doubts over the character of Heath, who died aged 89 in 2005.
